A FAIR PROTECTIVE TARIFF.

The National Democratic Platform Indorsed by Grover Cleveland.

"We believe that LABOR is best rewarded where it is free and most enlightened. It should therefore be fostered and cherished."

"We believe that it is the duty of this Government to PROTECT, with equal fidelity and vigilance, the rights of its citizens, native and naturalized, at home and abroad."

"We demand in behalf of democratic freedom for AMERICAN LABOR by reducing taxes to the end that the United States may compete with unhindered powers for the primacy among nations in all the arts of peace and fruits of liberty."

"The greatest of reform and change in administration is submitted to the people in calm confidence that the popular voice will pronounce in favor of many industries have come to rely upon legislation for successful continuance, so that any change of law must be at every step regardful of the labor and capital thus involved; the process of reform must be subject in the execution to this plain dictate of justice that labor shall be limited to the requirements of economical justice."

"The necessary reduction in taxation can and must be effected WITHOUT DEPRIVING AMERICAN LABOR OF THE ABILITY TO COMPETE SUCCESS-FULLY WITH FOREIGN LABOR, AND WITHOUT IMPOSING LOWER RATES OF DUTY THAN WILL BE AMPLE TO COVER ANY INCREASED COST OF PRODUCTION WHICH MAY EXIST IN CONSEQUENCE OF THE HIGHER RATE OF WAGES PREVAILING IN THIS COUNTRY."

Platform Unanimously adopted by the National Convention of the Democracy of Chicago.

"If Colonel Wm. R. Morrison will publicly declare that he is not a free trader, nor in favor of a tariff for revenue only, but in favor of reasonable protection, the Post-Dispatch will be happy to support his candidacy."

Our lamp holds out to burn.

PERSONAL "To W. R. M. Come back and all will be forgiven."

IS SENATOR WEST The Senator alluded to by General SHEPPARD last night?

THE idea now is that this is a government of the people for the people by the deputy masters.

The Rogan cat was out of the Republican bag at an alleged Irish-American meeting last night.

The address of those clergymen in New York to BLAINE yesterday ought to help CLEVELAND some.

The speeches at the BLAINE banquet were fine, but in the current language of politics "it's money that talks."

EX-GOVERNOR CORNELL and LEVI P. MORRISON both partook of the monopoly banquet with Mr. BLAINE. There was a blind pool between the in background of that banquet.

BLAINE's clerical friends do not propose to identify themselves with "the party whose antecedents have been run, Romanism and rebellion." They should have waited until after election day before saying so.

We fail to observe any response from CHAUNCEY I. FILLEY and JOHN H. FOHLMAN to the circular of the Missouri branch of the Civil Service Reform Association. We are afraid that FILLEY and FOHLMAN are not civil service reformers.

THE result of BISMARCK's severe measures for the repression of Socialism verifies the old saying that the blood of the martyrs is the seed of the church. The election returns show an enormous increase in the Social Democratic vote in Berlin and other cities.

It is painful to hear that in Indiana rampant disloyalty is so prevalent that hotel keepers refuse to accept the speeches of that eminent statesman J. MILTON TURNER as an equivalent for his board bills. The need of more deputy marshals in Indiana is imperative.

AMONG the representative Irish-Americans on the platform at the BLAINE ratification meeting, were CHAUNCEY O'FILLEY, JOHN O'FOLHAN, FREDERICK O'MOTT, and the Hon. JESSE WOODS, the only professional colored Irish-American now living. It was a proud day for the Irish.

The Duke of Connaught will return to London via San Francisco next month. It is to be hoped that the war-worn hero of Tel-el-Kebir has the nerve to cross the country without a military escort and that our Government will not endorse the English slander of Irish-Americans by tendering him a body-guard.

The Republican campaign watchwords deserve a place in the history of political literature. "I will not pre-deadhead in this enterprise," "I see channels," "Cast an anchor to windward," "Burn this letter," "Don't refuse a sick man," and now as a wind-up comes the sweetly suggestive alliteration, "We are opposed to rum, Romanism and rebellion."

PAST AND PRESENT.

The policy of the Democratic majority in Congress at the last session is still a subject of hot and angry debate. That it did not succeed is granted, but it is agreed that it ought to have succeeded.

As far as the official judgment of the party is concerned, that has been pronounced. The convention passed a vote of censure on it. The course of events in Congress represented the influence of COX and HUME and HEWITT, who still avow themselves free traders, and of MORRISON and CARLISLE, who neither admit nor recant. The platform of the convention repudiated all anterior free trade aspirations, and bound the party to a strictly defined protection.

That settles the question of doctrine and it should settle the question of policy. A course that is in opposition to sound Democratic doctrine cannot be good Democratic policy, but if the authority of the convention is not accepted as final, there is one test that is final.

If the men who voted for the Morrison bill in caucus and in the House had it to do over again, would they do it? Would SUNSET COX advise it? Would FRANK HURD advise it? Would MORRISON advise it?

There is no man in his senses who does not admit that it would be suicidal now.

That settles the question as to whether it was a blunder seven months ago.

BLAINE AS A CLAIMANT.

In his speech to the millionaires and monopolists of New York City yesterday, Mr. BLAINE boldly threw dallyance to the winds and frankly gave them his measure of the contribution expected from them by telling them what the Republican party had done for them. "I venture," said he, "to remind you men of New York, with your wealth and your vast influence and your magnificent prestige, that seventy per cent of the entire property of this city has been acquired since ABRAHAM LINCOLN was inaugurated." In the course of his remarks he reminded them that the entire property of New York State, valued at $1,800,000,000 in 1860, was valued at $6,300,000,000 in 1880, having nearly quadrupled in value in twenty years.

If he had referred to the fact that the ratio of increase during the preceding twenty years was as great, he would have spoiled the argument that New York and the country are dependent upon and indebted to the Republican party for their development and for all the prosperity they enjoy.

But Mr. BLAINE was talking to men who could interpret his campaign clap-trap as a sufficiently explicit reference to the vast fortunes they had personally accumulated by favor of the Republican party. He was talking to JAY GOULD, C. P. HUNTINGTON, D. O. MILLS and CYRUS FIELD, monopolists who had nothing when LINCOLN was inaugurated, and now have among them not less than $300,000,000. He was giving them and others of their kind to understand that the continuance of their "great influence" and "magnificent prestige" in the manipulation of politics and legislation for their own personal ends depended on his election and the continuance of the Republican party in power.

In his statistical exposition of the increase of wealth since Mr. LINCOLN was inaugurated, Mr. BLAINE omitted one of the most striking instances. He did not refer to the fact that he himself entered Congress a poor man and is now a millionaire. Neither did he mention the fact that his friend and partner and political prime minister, Mr. STEVE ELKINS, went to New Mexico a poor Democrat since the war and has since made several millions in the service of the Republican party.

Mr. BLAINE was talking to men who could interpret his campaign clap-trap as a sufficiently explicit reference to the vast fortunes they had personally accumulated by favor of the Republican party.

He was giving them and others of their kind to understand that the continuance of their "great influence" and "magnificent prestige" in the manipulation of politics and legislation for their own personal ends depended on his election and the continuance of the Republican party in power.

W would be sorry to believe that the closeness of the contest in the Eighteenth Illinois District could induce the Morrison men to think of trading off electoral or gubernatorial votes. But we cannot help remembering that it was CARTER HARRISON who disturbed the digestion of the Iroquois Club banquet and shattered the nerves of the free trade dudes last winter by proclaiming that what the Democratic party wanted was to let the tariff serve only.

Mr. BLAINE's principal organ, the New York Tribune, the paper to which he is in the habit of sending editorials in the handwriting of GAIL HAMILTON, spoke very frankly his opinion of Irish influence in American politics, and that, too, while it was fighting hard for Mr. BLAINE's nomination. It is said that the registration law is to be disregarded, and that unless the election judges permit men to vote in violation of the law, when they are not registered, the Deputy Marshals will pull the election officers out of their seats and leave men in their places who will run the election as ordered by an irresponsible committee. This is a serious thing to threaten—a far more serious thing to execute. We are not a Mexican community as yet, and the probability is that the final decision of this election will be according to law.
